Welcome to Perimeter Institute's Can You Build a Quantum Computer? This interactive activity celebrates the United Nations' International Year of Quantum Science and Technology (2025).

You'll need to solve puzzles to progress through the activity. Most of these are presented on Google Slides. When you click on the link to view a slide, you'll be prompted to make a copy. Once you've done this, you'll be able to slide, rotate, and cut and paste some of the images on the slides. You'll also be able to write on the slides. For the best experience, use a laptop or desktop computer.

Good luck!
